Employees and the Public, City of Rensselaer

Mayor, Michael Stammel has declared a “State of Emergency” in the City of Rensselaer.

There is no need for additional alarm.

This declaration is made in order to allow the City to effectively respond to the COVID-19 Coronavirus outbreak.

Effective at 12 NOON today, City Hall and the Library will be closed to any visitors until further notice.

Please remain patient and calm, and take all necessary precautions to protect yourself and your family.

If you have a specific question about the fight against the coronavirus, you can call the Rensselaer County Health Department at 518-270-2655.

Thank you,

Michael Stammel
